Short thought

In the Old Testament reading today Elijah is exhausted and afraid and he takes himself off into the wilderness, sits underneath a broom tree and wishes for it all to be over. God comes to him and reminds him to eat and drink, to look after himself because God loves him and cares for him. In times like this where we feel lost and afraid, perhaps wanting to be alone and nowhere near others, God calls us back into His love, back into the community of His people, those who gather together and worship Him, like us here at St John's. it doesn't matter how long ago we have been away from God, we are never forgotten, and we are never too far gone for God to care and love us. This week come back into His love, see the ways He calls you, all are welcome. As the Old Testament reading continues Elijah finds God in the silence, just waiting there to be heard. He is with us always, we are never alone.

Please send any notices for the pew sheet each week by Wednesday evening via email to Mthr Amy-Elizabeth.
